DOM RICHARD WILLIAMSON E O RABINO MAYER SCHILLER

Rabino Mayer Schiller

Dom Richard Williamson convidou o Rabino Mayer Schiller para lecionar no seminário americano da FSSPX. O rabino conseguiu influenciar vários grupos tradicionalistas, e até mesmo alguns sedevacantistas. Exibiremos alguns dados sobre o caso Williamson-Schiller.

> The Vatican has said it was unaware of Bishop Williamson's views about the Holocaust when it decided to cancel his excommunication. But, given that they have not been exactly secret, the explanation seems unlikely to pacify Jewish critics of the decision.
> As recently as March 2008, Bishop Williamson described as "authentic" the "Protocols of the Elders of Zion" which purports to reveal Jewish plots to achieve world domination. The document is considered to be a forgery which originated in Tsarist Russia.
>
> BWilliamson denies prejudice against Jews. He said: "My definition of anti-Semitism is to be against every single Jew purely because he's a Jew. That's not at all my case. I once had a Jewish rabbi come and speak to seminarians. Does that sound to you like anti-Semitism?"

Entrevista de Dom Richard Williamson na BBC News

“Minha definição de antissemitismo é ser contra todo e qualquer judeu unicamente por ele ser judeu. Esse definitivamente não é o meu caso. Uma vez convidei um rabino judeu para falar com seminaristas. Isso lhe parece antissemitismo?”

> Rabbi Schiller's affinity for traditionalist Catholicism led him to establish a warm relationship with the anti-Vatican II Society of St. Pius X (SSPX). The SSPX seminary in Ridgefield, CT invited Rabbi Schiller to speak to their seminarians on numerous occasions. And every time, the Rabbi reports, he was received with the utmost courtesy and respect. Once, a seminarian even addressed Rabbi Schiller as "Father". The seminarians held the Rabbi in such high regard that, before Archbishop Lefebvre was to consecrate several SSPX priests as bishops in defiance of Rome, they sought out the Rabbi to ask his opinion on the matter.

“A afinidade do rabino Schiller com o catolicismo tradicionalista levou-o a estabelecer uma relação calorosa com a Fraternidade Sacerdotal de São Pio X (FSSPX), grupo contrário ao Concílio Vaticano II. O seminário da FSSPX em Ridgefield, Connecticut, convidou o rabino Schiller para falar aos seus seminaristas em diversas ocasiões. E, segundo relata o próprio rabino, ele foi recebido com a máxima cortesia e respeito em todas as vezes. Certa vez, um seminarista chegou até a se dirigir ao rabino Schiller como “padre”. Os seminaristas tinham tanta consideração pelo rabino que, antes de o Arcebispo Lefebvre consagrar vários padres da FSSPX como bispos, em desafio a Roma, procuraram o rabino para saber sua opinião sobre o assunto.”

You have written that one of your ambitions is to write a book to help improve the Orthodox Jewish relationship with the non-Jewish world. Do you feel that C. S. Lewis will provide a link to the realization of your very noble ambition?

Certainly, by giving me the courage to see the project through. Having read Lewis and Chesterton and studied their lives I know how truly beautiful good Christians can be. I wish that every Jew might realize this simple fact. I've spoken to and known pious Christians from Ulster and Afrikaner "Prods" to SSPX and sedavacanist Catholics. I've received warm welcomes ranging from Rev. Ian Paisley to Bishop Richard Williamson and I know that hatred of Jews simply does not exist in those circles. It's time that Orthodox Jews reciprocated the sentiments.
